Pension Fund Governance and Management: Trustee Duties, Investment Policy and Funding

Ref: 97_14922 Date: 26 – 30 September 2027 Location: Jeddah - Corniche four-star Fees: 19500 SAR

Introduction:

Pension fund governance decides whether retirement promises made today are still affordable and paid in full decades later. Weak board oversight of investment policy, funding decisions, service providers and member communication turns into deficits, disputes and loss of member trust. This Core Concept course gives governing body members and pension executives a structured method to govern defined benefit, defined contribution, hybrid and end-of-service funds against international principles. Participants work on real fund documents and leave with a Pension Fund Governance Review Pack covering governance structure, investment policy, funding and risk controls.

Course Objectives:

- Distinguish defined benefit, defined contribution, hybrid and end-of-service arrangements and the governance risks each one places on the fund
- Design a governing body charter, delegation matrix and conflicts of interest register that assign clear accountability for pension fund decisions
- Review an investment policy statement and a strategic asset allocation proposal against the fund's objectives, risk tolerance and benefit profile
- Interpret actuarial valuation results and set a funding policy and recovery plan the governing body can defend
- Establish risk-based internal controls, service provider oversight and member reporting that meet the expectations of supervisors
- Produce a Pension Fund Governance Review Pack with a scorecard and improvement action plan for the governing body

Target Audience:

- Governing body and trustee board members accountable for pension and retirement fund decisions
- Investment committee members who approve investment policy, asset allocation and manager appointments
- Pension fund executives who run fund operations and report to the governing body
- Benefits administration managers responsible for member records, payments and communication

Conclusion:

Pension fund governance is tested whenever a governing body approves an investment policy, responds to a valuation or appoints a service provider. This course moves from scheme types and stakeholders, through governance frameworks and fiduciary duties, to investment, funding and benefits oversight and then to risk controls and supervision. The final day applies that material to defined benefit and defined contribution fund cases and produces a Pension Fund Governance Review Pack that participants take to their next governing body meeting.
