International Arbitration: Commercial and Investment Treaty Practice

Ref: 748_19476 Date: 18 – 29 January 2027 Location: Barcelona - Eixample district four-star Fees: 42300 SAR

Introduction:

International arbitration goes wrong for companies long before the hearing: a pathological clause, an unsuitable seat, a tribunal chosen without disclosure checks, or an award won against a party with no reachable assets. This Core Concept course trains counsel and contract managers to run cross-border commercial and investment treaty arbitration from clause to collection: drafting the agreement, choosing ICC, LCIA or UNCITRAL procedure, managing evidence and hearings, and enforcing under the New York Convention and the ICSID Convention. Participants assemble an Arbitration Case Package for a case dispute.

Course Objectives:

- Draft arbitration agreements that fix the seat, rules, language, tribunal size and escalation steps and that survive arbitrability and validity challenges
- Select between institutional and ad hoc procedure and conduct tribunal constitution, arbitrator disclosure checks and challenges
- Prepare written submissions, document production requests, witness statements and expert instructions that meet procedural orders
- Assess investor-state claims under investment treaties and the ICSID Convention, including jurisdiction and standards of protection
- Manage interim relief, emergency arbitrator applications, costs exposure and third-party funding in construction, energy and supply disputes
- Plan set-aside defence, recognition and enforcement of awards against private and sovereign counterparties

Target Audience:

- In-house counsel who instruct external firms and manage the company's portfolio of cross-border arbitrations
- Contract and commercial managers who negotiate dispute clauses in supply, distribution, construction and energy agreements
- Claims and project controls leads who assemble quantum, delay evidence and factual narratives for arbitral claims

Why Attend This Course:

- Leave with an Arbitration Case Package: a drafted clause, a statement of claim outline and an award enforcement plan for a case dispute
- Practise counsel tasks in a mock arbitration, from procedural order to cross-examination, with structured feedback
- Know when a foreign investment can be protected through treaty arbitration and what ICSID adds to a commercial claim
- Compare arbitration practice with counsel and contract managers from construction, energy, trade and services

Conclusion:

An arbitration is won or lost across a chain of decisions: the clause, the rules, the tribunal, the evidence, the hearing and the path to payment. Week one builds that chain for commercial arbitration, from consent and arbitrability through institutional and ad hoc rules, tribunal formation, submissions and hearings. Week two adds what a shorter course leaves out: investor-state claims under investment treaties and the ICSID Convention, interim relief and funding, construction and energy disputes, and award enforcement. The final day produces an Arbitration Case Package through a mock arbitration.
