Introduction

Government entities in Saudi Arabia publish, evaluate and award their tenders through the Etimad platform, and suppliers that answer every notice with a generic offer win rarely and often lose on avoidable grounds. Technical offers miss the evaluation criteria, financial offers ignore local content preferences, and bid teams commit scarce resources to tenders they cannot win. This coreconcept KSA course applies recognised capture and proposal methods to the Government Tenders and Procurement Law and the Etimad process. Participants work on real tender booklets and leave with an Etimad Bid Strategy and Proposal Plan.

Course Objectives

- Qualify Etimad tender opportunities with a structured bid/no-bid scorecard that weighs fit, competition, capacity and risk
- Interpret the conditions and specifications booklet and its evaluation criteria under the Saudi Government Tenders and Procurement Law and its Implementing Regulations
- Build win themes, a compliance matrix and a technical offer structure that answer each evaluation criterion
- Price the financial offer with the LCGPA national product price preference, local content and SME rules in view
- Manage inquiries, bid guarantees, submission deadlines and post-award grievances through Etimad
- Produce an Etimad Bid Strategy and Proposal Plan for a live or sample tender

Conclusion

Winning government work in Saudi Arabia depends as much on disciplined qualification and compliance as on price. The course moves from the Government Tenders and Procurement Law and the Etimad supplier journey, through proposal frameworks and evaluation rules, to win themes, pricing under local content preferences, and the grievances and disqualifications that decide close contests. The final day turns this material into an Etimad Bid Strategy and Proposal Plan that participants can apply to the next tender they pursue.
